Week 7, 29 August – 2 September

This Week

It was a pleasure to be involved in Book Week, and I'd like to thank every parent and carer who supported a student to come to school dressed as their favourite book character. Lots of creative and well thought out costumes.

I spoke with the Year 6 cohort last week about how important it is to "code switch" when we put on our uniforms each morning. The way we act and speak at home is inevitably different to the way we act and speak at school. The same is true for adults. Learning this skill whilst we are at school sets us up for success when we enter the workforce.

Every place that a student or staff member goes whilst wearing the Settlers uniform is a chance develop their own, or the school's reputation. Each interaction they have with a community member, each positive thing that they do not only allows others to see them as engaged young people, but also to build the reputation of Settlers Primary.

Our school is looking for opportunities to celebrate students who consistently demonstrate their pride in our uniform and school in the wider community. Please don't hesitate to reach out should you see a student who's making strong choices (or not so strong) when they're off school grounds.

Enjoy the week!

Around the School

Waste Audit

Last week we had a visit from Belinda Bloxsome from the WasteSorted Schools Program, who ran a Waste Audit incursion for students in C Block. These fun learning sessions challenged students to recognise how much waste is generated each day by our school and learn about the different types of waste that we produce.

Book Week

We couldn't end the week without some more photos of our lovely book week costumes. A huge thanks to Mrs Preedy and our staff for organising the parade and for all the parents, carers and community members who came down and cheered the kids on.
